Friday afternoon the pupils of St. John's school entertained their parents at the school. The program was opened with a Wellcome song followed by There'll Always be an England and Salute to the Flag.

The pupils of the senior room sang a round, Sweetly Sings the Donkey. An oratorical contest opened with a composition by Donald Duncan, entitled The Manufacture of Newsprint, for which he was later awarded first prize. Barbara McHale then played The Yellow Butterfly.

Jimmy Hugo, another entrant in the contest, told the story of Jack Miner and his Bird Friends. Kenneth Burke played a piano solo, Monkeys in the Trees. Barbara McHale followed next with her composition, Home of the Future. Another musician, Melfort McCaffrey, played a piano solo, The Cat and the Fiddle. Larry Osborne gave an oration on Sir William Mulock.

Joan Quinn played a piano solo, Off to Camp. Melfort McCaffrey, the final entrant in the contest, gave a composition on The White Horses of Canada.

Some of the children from the junior room demonstrated how they danced the Koko Oka. Rev. Dr. W. D. Muckle spoke encouragingly to the children as also did Bernard McHale.

The guests were then invited to the junior room where they saw the youngest pupils in their own surroundings. Refreshments were served by the senior girls.

V. S. Milburn, secretary, announced that the convention committee had been fortunate to secure as speakers, W. J. Parker, president of Manitoba Wheat Pool and vice-president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, and Geo. Patterson, commercial attaché to the Canadian Embassy at Washington.

PRANKSTERS TO BE ASSESSED FOR DAMAGES

Serious damage was done Tuesday night by youths in the Lion club night. Benches and other fixtures were rooted up and partially destroyed and the bridge was overturned.

Chief Constable James Sloss said that it was one of the worst Halloween's in years. The damage was reported to have been done by gangs of youths whose ages ranged from early teens to twenties.

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales issued a statement Thursday morning saying that the youths responsible were known to the authorities and that they would be assessed for their share of damage. His statement follows:

"It is regrettable that so much willful destruction of property took place Halloween. It is quite understandable that small children would enjoy playing pranks and dressing up but it is almost inconceivable that boys 14 to 20 years should find it necessary to destroy private property and wreck park fixtures that have taken many years to develop. Many of those responsible are known to the authorities and it is the intention to assess those responsible for their share of the damage.

"The only alternative is to issue summonses and have those who are members of these gangs brought to court.

"It also brings up the question again of organized entertainment for the town. There is a great responsibility on those in charge of town affairs to give some outlet and direction for the energies of youth. It is not sufficient to expect and demand a certain line of conduct from youth under the penalty of law. I think service clubs and the council should consider planning some entertainment next year which would be much better for all concerned. The solution for many of our juvenile problems is more careful planning and less policing. This is a matter for serious thought."

The water and light department reported that there were some lights broken on the streets. Many householders reported that their front steps had been taken away. Windows on Main St. were soaped with more attention to coverage than art. The steps of Alexander Muir school were piled with logs and planks and other articles taken from the yards of the neighborhood.

Chief Sloss said that an old car had been taken from a local wrecking shop and placed in front of York County hospital. The windows of the car were broken and the glass strewn over the road.

THINGS ARE GOING WELL, SOLDIERS SAY

"Received your cigarette yesterday and they were very welcome as we have just come in from a long trip and a good smoke sure hit the spot," Sto. 1/c David Weir writes in a letter of appreciation to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "We have been quite busy since we have been over here and I am just hoping for a break soon. We have not had a great deal of action but a fellow gets tired out at sea most of the time."

"Our shore leave in our base is very short whenever we get it, only to 8.30 at night and will be less as winter sets in."

"Just a few lines to thank you for the last three lots of cigarettes that I have received from the Veterans' Association," writes Gnr. John Hiley. "The last two lots I received I had a sore arm and couldn't write to thank you but now the arm is better. It is swell to get Canadian smokes and I know that you are thinking of us fellows over here."

"The weather is cold and damp and there is lots of mud these days. Give my regards to all the Veterans. I hope they are all as well as I am when this note leaves me."

"Once again I must thank you for your kindness in sending me cigarettes," Sgt. Albert Lindemann writes the Veterans. "As I have mentioned many times before I appreciate these very much."

"As for news in general I cannot give you very much and no doubt you get more news than we do. However, things are going very well with the Allied forces in general and maybe soon we'll all be home again. A few days ago I met Red Thompson, who is or was a patient at No. 13 Canadian General hospital. He was up and walking around and looked very well."

"Everything is going fine down here and we all hope to be home soon," Pte. Don Clarkson writes in a note of appreciation to the Veterans.

A note of appreciation has been received by the Veterans from Pte. G. A. Park and cards of appreciation have been received from L.F. Wm. Druery and ACI Harold Reaman.

FORMER DAISY DENHAM DIES IN PETROLIA

Mrs. George Stokes (Mary E. "Daisy" Denham), died at her home at Petrolia after an illness of two days with a heart condition.

Mrs. Stokes was a granddaughter of the late R. H. Smith, a former Newmarket merchant, and was well known in Newmarket as Daisy Denham.

She was born at Petrolia on June 13, 1870, a daughter of the late Sarah Catherine Smith and S. Denham. She married George Stokes in 1898 and he died in 1918.

A son, LAC George Roscoe Stokes, died two years ago. Two daughters, Lillian and Mary, and one brother, Wm. Denham, Los Angeles, survive.

Mrs. Stokes' grandfather, Mr. Smith, was the first white man born near Petrolia. He built the house on Victoria Ave. now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Scott.

Mrs. Stokes spent a great deal of her time in Newmarket in her younger days and attended Mrs. Ballo's school.

Rev. A. B. Stein conducted the funeral service at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose on Wednesday afternoon. Interment was made in the Smith plot at the Newmarket cemetery.

RAIN AND MUD MAKE GOING TOUGH IN ITALY

"Just a line to let you know that I am fine and well," Pte. Jack Caradonna writes in a letter of appreciation to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "Received your gift of cigarettes yesterday, which I appreciate very much. I wish to thank you very sincerely for this gift, also the other because they have really come in handy."

"As you all know, we've got Remini. They figured once they were through there that it would be easy going. In fact it was for about the first 15 miles, then Gerry put up a great counter-attack which brought us to a standstill. The reason it is so tough is the rain and the mud. It is raining now for about a week and a half steady and it sure slows things up."

"I am in the transportation line and there are days when we are bogged in for two or three days at a time before our breakdown comes along."

"Received your cigarette and many thanks," L-Cpl. Harold Evans writes the Veterans. "Just back from leave and so of course they sure came at the right time. Visited Dad's old home town again and as usual was treated right royally. Only one setback—it rained most of the time and in fact has been over since, but I suppose that is natural for this time of year. I see by the local paper it has turned cold at home too."

"Just a line to let you know I received your carton of cigarettes quite safely after they had chased me around for some time," Pte. Wm. Connell writes the Veterans. "I am now back in England and have been for six weeks. I was brought back after being wounded. I am fully recovered now and feeling fine and will likely be going back over before too long."

"The news is very good and we hope that before another winter passes we will have this job finished. I have met Sgt. Jack Hamilton here. He is looking well."

SAVAGE DAY SATURDAY, Special Effort Urged

Saturday, Nov. 4, is paper salvage day. Newmarket Boy Scouts and Cubs will pick up the paper bundles Saturday afternoon. The Cubs will go from house to house Saturday morning to aid any householder in wrapping his papers and placing them on the street to be picked up.

Waste newspapers and rags are still high on the list of needs for the war effort and as there won't be a salvage collection for some weeks, householders are urged to make a special effort this Saturday.

Proceeds from the sale of salvage go to the Boy Scouts Association.

Camp Is 150 Percent Over Loan Quota; Local Sales Slow

Seventh Victory loan sales as of Tuesday night: Newmarket sales, $167,700; objective, $350,000; District sales, $1,157,200; objective, $3,400,000.

With the Seventh Victory loan campaign half over, Newmarket is less than halfway to its objective according to figures on the sales up to Tuesday night.

Victory Loan headquarters urge that no effort be spared in reaching the objective.

Newmarket military camp reports that 98 1-2 per cent of the personnel of the camp have applied for loans and that the camp has made 150 percent of its objective.

There have been 569 sales, totalling $67,700, at the camp.

Salesmen reporting to loan headquarters say that a large percentage of their sales are coming from those who have relatives overseas. Especially large is proportion of sales from those who have suffered casualties in their families.

Army Needs Great, Veteran Declares

Blight that their elder son, William Gerald Blight, killed in action, had been promoted from flight sergeant's rank to that of warrant officer, second class, effective March 14, 1943. WO2 Blight was killed in April of last year.

The letter from the R.C.A.F. reads in part: "This promotion is based on a policy inaugurated by the R.C.A.F. whereby aircrew members who had been recommended previously by their commanding officer for the next higher rank and who would have received the promotion but for the intervention of untimely death, are promoted to that rank effective six months from the date of their last promotion."

"It is our sincere hope that you may find sustaining comfort in the knowledge that the qualities of your gallant son are thus recognized..."

VICTORY AT HOME

The Seventh Victory Loan is in its second half.
There are nine more days in which to make our quotas.

In Europe, the headlines say, the battle of Antwerp is won. Our boys over there are past the halfway mark too.

Let us show that we can go on to victory at home as, we know, they will overseas.

ALL HALLOWS EVE

Ghosts and hobgoblins and such like were on the prowl beneath a misty moon Tuesday night.
Wearing every conceivable garb, from pop's pyjamas to mom's high-heeled slippers, they flitted from door to door with bags the size of potato sacks.

Pickings weren't too good due to war shortages but the spirit was there. And certainly, soaped windows on Main St. were very much in evidence Wednesday morning.

GROUCH CORNER

We have long felt that there is a vast reservoir of humor and common sense in mankind's grouches. A good grouch is part of every human being's standard equipment but too often grouches languish in silence. We therefore introduce to this page the Grouch Corner. Send us your grouch so that others may profit by it.

'A BIG IDEA'

In Sidelights, a column conducted by Herbert Cranston in the Free Press Herald, Midland, is a report of a "big man with a big idea" from which we borrow without apology believing the "big man" and his "big idea" have more than a casual interest for Newmarket.

The "big man" is Arthur E. Morgan, civil engineer, and for five years head of the Tennessee Valley Authority; the "big idea" is the restoration of town and village life. Mr. Morgan travels the length and breadth of this continent evangelizing his idea. Recently, he spoke at a series of conferences at Port Severn.

Mr. Cranston's report on Mr. Morgan's message reads in part:

"The most important factor in the life of Canada and the United States is the small community. It is in danger of extinction unless our two nations are aroused to what is happening. More and more people are flocking from the small places to the big places until the big places have become too big and the small places too small.
Mr. Morgan wants to reverse this trend. He wants to restore town and village life. He wants to make people realize that there is more opportunity to really live in a little community than in the biggest city in the world. As a matter of fact our nations will slowly die unless the small community regains its former ascendancy in affairs."

The point that Mr. Morgan makes has special application to Newmarket. Being near to Toronto, it is only natural its young people should look in that direction. What is being done to counterbalance the pull of the city? We have made a start where recreation is concerned; the town now owns its own arena. But unless that initial advantage is followed up, the gesture is wasted.
What is the town doing to advertise its virtues; to correct its faults? What preparations are being made to attract post-war industries?

Newmarket has every advantage a town of its size could hope for: situated in the midst of a prosperous farming area, steady industries and a sound financial position. Unless those advantages are utilized to the utmost, Newmarket will not progress and to stand still is to regress.

BATTLE OF MILLARD AVENUE

It was all quiet on the Millard Avenue front last night. We were disappointed; for the last few weeks a battle of considerable dimensions has raged about the wood pile behind the old hotel at the top of Main Street hill, and we had begun to look for it as a regular end-of-the-day pleasure.

The wood piles make excellent pill boxes and the grass slope behind them is ideal for digging fox holes. The participants have every variety of weapon, from a crooked stick representing an anti-tank rifle to a pop-gun with a drum and ratchet which sounds like a machine gun when revolved rapidly. All that is lacking is a couple of tanks and assorted ruins to give the scene a final touch.

One enjoyable feature of the battle was the un-concern with which the combatants bore their wounds. We saw one of the attacking force stitched for and off by an imaginary Tommy gun and after gracefully falling on his face, wait until his foe's back was turned and then rise and open fire to the accompaniment of indignant shouts of Hey-you, you're dead.

The dogs of Millard Avenue enjoyed the battle as much as we did. Unlike ourselves, the dogs were not content to remain on the sidelines.
However, not being well versed in the latest commando tactics, they were apt to be more of an embarrassment than an asset. They had the unsoldierly habit of standing over a well-hidden sniper with their tongues hanging out and their tails wagging with enthusiasm.

But even the most ardent belligerents are not proof against dinner call and when we saw the empty battle field we concluded that the Millard Avenue commandos, having washed the stains of battle from knees and elbows, were wolfing their rations in adjoining kitchens.

CITIZENS' WORKSHOPS

A recent Globe and Mail editorial praises the intention of William Henry Moore, M.P. for Ontario County, to institute a "citizens' workshop" as a substitute for the cracker barrel clubs of earlier days. According to the Globe and Mail editorial, "the 'workshop' will welcome to its round-table discussions people of all parties and of none. It is proposed to study such matters as the distribution of the national income, taxation, the inadequate assistance given by governments to agriculture, the Polish issue, relations between employer and employee and the economic structure in relation to politics."

A "citizens' workshop" would be an excellent addition to Newmarket's community life. Discussion is the blood and substance of our democratic way; the threshing out of views in public debate is the surest method of educating citizens.
A place to meet, someone to lead the discussion and fix the topics, and the interest of Newmarket citizens is all that is needed.

What Others Think

SIREN VOICE OF SOCIALISM

(The Temiskaming Speaker)

It is generally assumed that organized labor is opposed to capitalism, and that all labor leaders must logically be socialists. This, however, is by no means the case, for there are many if not most intelligent and experienced labor leaders who are opposed to socialism. Many of those who entered the labor movement as socialists have learned from experience that labor and capital are dependent upon each other, and that without free enterprise there can be no freedom for labor.

Socialism calls for State ownership and absolute control of productive industries, and it must inevitably follow that labor would come under the absolute control and dictatorship of the State.
That is what has happened in all socialist and fascist countries, and it is quite logical. This fact was eventually realized by David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, when he resigned from the Socialist party. The following is a quotation from a biography of Mr. Dubinsky:

"As you know, I was a socialist for many years. When I resigned from the Socialist party in 1936, it was for purely political reasons. We believed in the New Deal and wanted Roosevelt re-elected. But since that time I have come to the conclusion that Socialism, certainly the orthodox variety, will never work.

"Trade unionism needs capitalism like a fish needs water. Democracy is possible only in a society of free enterprise and trade unionism can live only in a democracy. Look what's happened to trade unionism in the totalitarian countries."

Labor had a long fierce struggle to secure its freedom to organize, and the unions would lose all that they have gained if they were to listen to the siren promises of Socialism.

WE PROTEST VIGOROUSLY

(The Tweed News)

It irks us no end, on occasions, to see rural weekly newspaper editors pictured as "country hicks." In a recent issue of the Pathfinder magazine, a drawing to illustrate an article, Country Editor Looks to The Future, showed the unkempt and untidy scrivener buried among a pile of old papers, magazines, and books in his dingy office. This same thing is erroneously construed in frequent films from Hollywood.

It's about time that business men, magazine editors, artists, and film directors, stopped looking at rural United States and Canada, through nineteenth century glasses. It's about time they learned that the farmer's daughter of 1944, is as well-educated and well-dressed as her city sister; that the Main Street merchant of today operates a well-lighted, clean and modernized store and that the country editor, who knows his community better than any city editor ever did, is, in most cases, a man who has business ability and with a little training, might fit that same city editor's shoes. The day of the cracker barrel, the gas lamp, and the hitching-post in the small community, disappeared with old Dobbin.

We realize there are still a few down-at-the-heels newspaper offices in some country towns, just as there are shoddy, unkempt offices in any city, but why so-called interpreters of the rural scene insist on picking these as typical of the country, is a mystery which becomes more irritating with each passing year. In many a popular magazine, we have seen stories about country editors and invariably they are portrayed as genial, overweight individuals, dressed in ill-fitting clothes, working in shoddy offices, cluttered with the kind of equipment which was popular when George Brown broke into the newspaper business.

Country people, with motor cars, new highways, and all the conveniences of the cities, have advanced rapidly within the past 25 years and are wide awake to modern business methods.

In Passing

Russia is reported to have refused to participate in an air conference because Spain, Portugal and Switzerland are among those invited. The reason for the refusal was said to be that these nations have favored a pro-fascist attitude towards Russia. If true, the inclusion of Switzerland in the list suggests that any nation not pro-communist is pro-fascist as far as Russia is concerned.

Just a reminder Saturday, Nov. 4, is salvage day again. Waste paper is still high on the list of war needs. Put your old paper and rags to use.
The collection begins at 1 p.m.

Average monthly farm wages, with board, in Canada during August of this year were $87.92, according to a recent bulletin of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This represents an increase of 14.7 percent over the monthly rate in August, 1940, which was indexed by the board at $27.76.
Highest increase of these farm wage rates in 1944, over 1940, was shown to be in Saskatchewan, with a 166 percent increase. Manitoba's increase was 104 percent, Alberta's 138 percent, Ontario's 100 percent, B.C.'s 138 percent, Quebec's 164 percent, New Brunswick's 108 percent, Nova Scotia's 120 percent, and P.E.I.'s 140 percent.

THE COMMON ROUND

By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

THE F.A.U.

The other evening a party of young men left Toronto for an unknown destination. Their destination may be uncertain, but their work is not. They belong to the Friends Ambulance Unit, which is a voluntary pacifist body of some hundreds of men and women sharing Quaker views on peace and war. They are unpaid, but their maintenance is provided.

The unit is responsible to a council independent of the Society of Friends but working in consultation with their committees.

At work they wear battle dress with the Red Cross insignia on one arm and the unit's insignia on the other.

I suppose I should have never come in contact with this organization had not Francis Starr joined it, and brought interest in its work to our midst, and since then so many people have wondered what the work of the unit is that I decided to tell a little of what I have learned.

In the party which has just left, Francis is the only Quaker, the others—United Church, Anglican and other denominations. Mrs.
Starr told me that some mothers have boys in both the active service and in this alternative service.

In the booklet I have been reading it says that in a country totally mobilized for war, the young pacifist is faced with a dilemma. He is anxious to give what service he can but debarred by C.O. views from serving in the army. The F.A.U. was founded to give these young men and women a chance to serve by relieving suffering in hospitals, on the battlefields, on the roads of China, in Syria and Ethiopia.

By working with the army but maintaining their civilian status, members of the F.A.U. have been able to share some of the rigors of the desert campaign.

The outbreak of war between Russia and Finland was the unit's first opportunity of offering service overseas. Fifty-eight men drove 20 ambulances, three supply lorries and three staff cars through Norway to the Finnish front. The ambulances, camouflaged white, set out each evening—only allowed to drive at night—carrying wounded from forward dressing stations to base hospitals. They shared the life of the Finnish soldiers, living in dug-outs and sharing rations.

When the war ended they helped the Finnish evacuees to vacate the territory ceded to Russia. They then went to Norway, but were forced to escape through Russia to Turkey, to arrive in Egypt in search of further service.

With ten ambulances obtained from the British Red Cross, they were able to carry 4,000 British, Australian and Italian casualties from homes and ships to hospitals in Alexandria. In Greece they helped evacuate the Florena hospital, then joined the retreat in face of the German advance.

Some escaped by destroyer and merchantmen with the troops but one party was left and fled to the hills. But before that they tended as many wounded as they could find. Ten of the party are working in Germany, since capture, as orderlies and mas-surs in prisoner of war camps.

In the Middle East they are responsible for the driving and maintenance of vehicles in a mobile military hospital. They have given service in the R.A.
M.C. blood transfusion field and the unit now provides personnel for an R.A.M.C. mobile surgical unit.

The British Red Cross has given every assistance to the unit since the members who escaped from Norway arrived in Alexandria in 1940. Since then the unit, although retaining its independence, has worked under the aegis of the Red Cross in the Middle East. During the past two years the F.A.U., with other volunteers, staffed the prisoners of war department in Cairo, registering the names and details of every prisoner of war in the North African campaign, dealing with inquiries from relatives and friends and arranging for the sending of comforts and mail to prison camps.

The unit has worked in Syria, Ethiopia, India and China, to which it went in 1941 with upward of 30 motor trucks obtained from the American and Chinese governments and were soon running convoys along the Burma road, carrying medical supplies from Rangoon.

The 65 British, 14 Americans and one Canadian who comprise the China section have suffered more than any other section of the unit from ill-health, which results from work under primitive conditions in the Far East.
Two members have died of typhus, others had to be withdrawn.

In addition to transport and medical work, members of the China section are working in a leper colony, a Chinese school and Chinese Industrial Co-operatives. All this may, it is hoped, play some small part in the development of a better understanding between east and west.

China is scourged by disease as well as war. In some districts typhus and malaria cause far more deaths than war, and there and on the Yunnan front the unit, collaborating with the Chinese and British Red Cross, has provided men for three mobile surgical teams and a mobile x-ray unit.

So this is, in part, the answer to what the F.A.U. is doing as its service.

POST-WAR EMPLOYMENT

By ORVILLE GANTON

A survey of opinion on postwar employment reveals a sharp difference in viewpoint by those qualified to speak on this subject.
While the general consensus is of an optimistic nature there are, however, some who hold entirely different views. For instance, C.
Gordon Cockshutt, president of Cockshutt Plow Co., speaking of Canadian manufacturers said:
"The Cockshutt organization, employing approximately 6,000 people, is confronted with the problem of giving employment to these and some 1,500 others at present with the armed forces.
While we appreciate that a substantial number, particularly women, will return to other activities, the problem of giving full employment is a stupendous one.
With the best intentions and postwar planning, we cannot hope to provide for more than a substantial portion of those at present employed."

W. A. Wecker, vice-president of General Motors of Canada, paints a more rosy picture. He said: "It has been estimated that for a number of years (after the war) sales potentialities will be in excess of 200,000 cars a year—to meet a post-war demand for cars, which we estimate will be 50 percent greater than before the war, my company is prepared to spend millions of dollars for expansion of our plants."

The Financial Post recently made a survey of post-war employment. Its editor, R. A.
McEachern, had this to say: "Now everybody is talking about what is termed full employment after the war. Best available estimates for after the war are that Canada would have full employment with 17 percent more Canadians working than in 1939. While all business and industry are linked together in eternal chains of cause and effect, manufacturing is the most critical in the national employment picture. So we asked Canadian manufacturers this question: How many do you now employ, and how many do you expect to employ after hostilities cease? The replies indicated that one year after hostilities cease, they expect to employ 25 percent more workers than they did in 1939. Replies from manufacturers indicated that they like women workers.
Their plans for one year after victory called for employing 58 percent more women than in 1939. The Gallup poll people found that in the Toronto area, one-half the married women now working want to go on working and three-quarters of all women now working want to go on working."

Some people believe immigration will play an important part.
However, Dr. Redler, European expert of the Bank of Canada, thinks otherwise. He said:
"Looking at the European end of the emigration road I feel that in discussions about mass emigration people are still fighting the battles of the last 50 years.
It seems very doubtful whether,
for economic reasons during the next 50 years, Europe will be a continent that can send out any any substantial number of emigrants."

Speaking on world trade Dr.
Redler said: "For a period of from three to six years, Canadian manufacturers can be assured that continental Europe can simply absorb any amount of finished goods, which Canadian industry may be able to offer."

Labor's viewpoint is expressed by Eugene Forsey, Ph. D., director of research for the C.C.L. He said: "There can be full employment only if there is enough new investment to absorb the national savings. Canadian capitalists have made it clear that under capitalism, such new investment will be forthcoming only on two conditions: (1) abolition of the excess profits tax and reduction of corporation taxes and income taxes on large personal incomes; (2) maintenance of 'business confidence' by cessation of all political activity, and even all discussion, looking towards fundamental economic change. The first will be difficult, if not impossible, to extort from the democratic electorate;
the second is simply fantastic."

ROCHE'S POINT

Sixteen people sat down to dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Faulkner on Sunday. The occasion was Mrs. Faulkner's birthday.
Mrs. Sanderson, Jimmie, Donald and Joan and Mrs. Gordon Faulkner and Carol, all of Newmarket, and Mr. and Mrs. Connell Marritt and Miss Gladys Faulkner, Toronto, were among the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Kelch entertained Mr. and Mrs. Will Stevenson, Keswick, and Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Gordon and Billie, Queensville, recently.

GROUCH CORNER

A friend writes us that his chief grouch in life is against the person who sits beside him in the picture show and, having seen the picture before, insists on telling what comes next in a stage whisper that can be heard three rows back.

MUSICAL NOTES

Last Sunday evening a large congregation attended the Congregational Christian church to hear Maunders' Cantata, Penitence, Pardon and Peace, given under the direction of Mrs. J. E.
Cane. The choir was assisted by two excellent soloists, Miss Alexandria Belugin's lovely voice was especially suitable for the beautiful soprano solos, which she sang with much feeling.

R. N. Smith of Toronto is the possessor of a rich baritone voice.
His very fine rendition of the solo, Consider and Hear Me, and the baritone solos throughout the Cantata left nothing to be desired.

The choruses sung by the large choir were most inspiring.

SMITH BROS.
COUGH DROPS

DOWN THE CENTRE

The military hockey situation was clarified a bit this week as the armored corps sports officers met in Borden. A league was formed with six teams divided into two groups to cut down travelling and a long schedule. Newmarket camp, No. 3 C.A.C.T.R. and No. 1 C.A.C.T.R. were placed in one group, with the first two teams scheduled to meet in a group play-off. The other group contains Orillia camp, No. 1 C.A.C.T.R. and No. 2 C.A.C.T.R. with the same group play-off. Then both group winners meet, for the armored corps title.

F. and S. Wing and Brampton camp, the two finalists of last winter, are not included in the group. Brampton is now a rehabilitation centre and T. and S. Wing will be playing senior hockey club in Camp Borden as representative of the C.A.C. or in a league in Maple Leaf Gardens. The latter group already contains R.C.A.F., Navy, Army, and a Camp Borden entry. Whether or not two teams from Borden will play in Toronto will be decided shortly. If T. and S. Wing does not get an entry in the Toronto group they will play as a corps team in the Camp Borden senior league which will be just that class in case you have any doubts. In either case, aside from their own team, they will be able to draw reinforcements from the teams in the C.A.C.

From last year T. and S. have Alex. Bandalack, ace defenceman, Bud and Mickey Macgillivray, Glen Brydson, Jimmy Boddy, Lieut. Chuck Hamilton and Frank Mazza and have already added Lieut. Joe Fennell and Reg Westbrooke, star defenceman and goalie of No. 2, Ed Young and Bobby McLaughlin of Brampton and expect to have Lieut. Bob Bangay of Markham-Newmarket-No. 2 fame as well as Lieut. Al Kuntz, ex-New York Ranger and No. 1, a pretty fair start for a class team with other reinforcements yet to come.

Big question is what will happen to Newmarket camp, M.D. 2, in which Newmarket is situated, is counting on Johnny Callahan, Joint McComb and others at Newmarket to bolster their team and since Newmarket is at present a C.A.C. basic centre it is to be presumed that the Borden team is counting on them too. In addition the Army Bulletin last week intimated a Newmarket team would be playing in the Toronto garrison league but as yet nothing is known about this by Newmarket officials.

The new grouping outlined above should be fairly satisfactory to all. Even if the team didn't make the play-offs in the group they would have four games and the very worst pessimist couldn't reckon the a possible seven games. The ultimate winners could play as high as ten games. This is a scheme that fits in better with 1944 army training, eliminates long trips as much as possible and yet provides some fine hockey attractions for Newmarket, which exhibition games can well round out. The league gets underway the week of Jan. 8 which should make it possible to finish the league on natural ice, benefitting all the links concerned considerably.

Basketball will be a major sport at No. 23 this winter with a nice, seven-club armored corps league which will get underway the first week in December. Time will be out for Xmas holidays and the first four teams will play-off. With the proper setting there should be no reason why basketball should not become popular with North York crowds who will be welcome at the games.

Rivalling the famous Chin brothers as attractions in basketball are three Chinese basketballers who are playing at Orillia camp. They are the Long brothers from Lethbridge, Alta., and Johnny Wo of Vancouver Tech. Orillia is playing its games at the N.M.C.A. of that town. Chuck Bennett, former Aurora junior-increase star and Newmarket junior-increase hockey star of the middle 30's, is now stationed at Camp Borden. Another former Aurora increase player has come back to his hometown in Newmarket after an absence of several years in the person of Howard Hrice. Howie toiled on the Aurora junior defence and also played some fair hockey for Newmarket juniors a welcome addition to the sports fraternity around the hub of North York.

Orchids to the sensational young runner from Newmarket camp, Alfie Cameron. The little New Brunswick youngster competed in his first marathon race at Hamilton on Oct. 21 in the famous 19-mile round-the-bay classic and finished second behind Scotty Rankine of the R.C.A.F., for years one of Canada's greatest distance runners. Cameron ran a well-paced race with the assistance of Coach Liout. But life came up from the year to finish close behind Rankine. Scotty's time was well behind the record and, while past his best, is still plenty good. The significant fact is that in his first start Cameron just about bested the country's best, except for the celebrated Sgt. Gerard Cote, thrice winner of the Boston marathon, who did not compete.

We agree with Lieut. Life when he says: "This stamps Cameron as undoubtedly the nation's most promising marathoner." Bill Thoms got Joe Farrell, publicity expert of the Chicago Black Hawks, to send us some dope on the Windy City pro hockeyists and we pass on the information received. The Hawks who broke camp last Thursday have had over 40 practices and are in top condition. The new defence rule about icing the puck has been practiced hard and often and the opinion is that it will stop a lot of gangling attacks this year.

Mike Karakas is a fixture in goal and this, Mr. Farrell thinks, will help the defence. Hoc Highton, who started the season last year, has points out, allowed 4.5 goals per game over the first half of the season, whereas Mike's average was 3.5 over a similar period. A goal a game to a team like Chicago, never offensively minded, means a lot. Earl Roberts is back on defence for his tenth season and last year made the all-star team which speaks for itself. Joe Bretto, the new recruit, is better than Barrie's Jack Dye whose efforts he says were "mediocre." Joe Cooper, a tried and true performer, is back with Virgil Johnson as his partner and "in case of incapacitation, Red Mitchell will be carried to fill on defence." The first line has Pete Horeck, who led the American league with 34 goals at left, Clint Smith, who established a new assists record of 49 last year, at centre, and Bill Mostenko at right. Doug Bentley, ace of last year's team, is missing from this line and Horeck will have his work cut out to fill his shoes. "Bill Thoms, who just missed shuffling off this mortal coil last spring, is back and will man the pivot spot on the second line. He thinks he is O.K. and so do the club's doctors." Russell Brayshaw, a rookie, is replacing George Vancouver, B.C., is replacing George Vancouver, now in the army, at wing. "He is 25, exceptionally fast and very aggressive." Johnny Harnes, who came up late last winter and scored three goals in his only three games, is ticketed for right wing. He was previously with Hershey Bears. The third and fourth line (the latter an extra string this year) has not as yet been selected but available are veterans Johnny Gottseig and Mush March, Fido Purper, Babe Bapke, both with big league experience, and Harvey Fraser, a former amateur, and Eddie Shumlock, former Toronto Marlboro player who is an army rejectee and played last year on the Pacific coast.

The Hawks played their opener on Sunday night in Chicago against Toronto Leafs and as usual Canadian fans sat in on this one via the radio. Joe says the forward line angle sums up this way. "The loss of our two ace left wingers is a hard blow. Bentley accounted for 38 goals and 46 assists while Allen made 17 goals and 24 assists in 1943-44 alternating at left wing and on defence. Fifty-five goals taken away from our left side is something to think about. If Thoms is anywhere near like the Thoms of old his return will help to offset, to some extent, the loss of Bentley and Allen. In Brayshaw, Harnes and Horeck the fans will see three of the fastest and most aggressive forwards in the league." Forecasting from this it would seem there will be better goal-tending over the year, especially in early games where a lot of games can easily be lost. The defence is stronger. The forward lines appear a bit weaker but should have more aggressiveness. Their scoring punch is something to be proven in big league company. That leaves the Hawks, in our opinion, no better or worse than last year. If recruits click they will be better, if not, about the same. Our thanks go to Bill Thoms and Joe Farrell for their kindness.

Chicago has quite a few followers throughout old North York and needless to say regardless of anything else, Bill Thoms has rightly earned a warm spot in the hearts of all for his clean, gentlemanly play over the years. Let's hope it's his biggest and best and if so Paul Thompson, the Hawk coach, will be smiling happily as his Hawks fly high in the N.H.L. race.

By now you are probably thinking of another of North York's warm favorites, Herb Cahn and his mates, the famous Boston Bruins. Probably no American club has as much support in Canada as the beantown boys and a dispatch from our good friend, Herbie, from the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec City where the Boston boys have been bedding down while in training, enables us to give you a word picture about the 1944 Bruins. We should almost say an exclusive, or a scoop, for maestro Art Ross, colorful leader of the Boston team, has been strangely silent during training days and very little information that can be relied upon has emanated from Quebec.

Incidentally, you notice, the best is none too good for Boston, for they are in the same hotel that F.D.R. and Winston Churchill used but the press coverage is much scantier. Harvey Bennett, the 18-year-old Regina boy who the past two years has provided good goal coverage for Oshawa Generals, has been signed to a contract and will make his start in the N.H.L. this season, according to Cahn. He replaces Maurice Courteau and Bert Gardiner. Courteau was looked upon to start the season in goal by the experts. Gardiner had 212 goals whipped by him in 41 games, while Courteau's average was 33 in six games. Hardly high class goal-tending. Bennett should make a difference in the nets.

Aulrey ("Dit") Clapper, born in Newmarket and educated in Aurora, playing coach of the team, heads the defence quartet, all experienced performers and sturdy checkers. Pat Egan, ex-American player, is back, as is Jack Crawford. Jack Schewchuk is back after a stay in the army. While this foursome are a bit aged in years of playing, they know all the angles and should give the youthful Bennett plenty of protection. Egan last year got 23 scoring points and was, if we recall rightly, the top scoring defenceman in the league.

Clapper is now starting his 17th year in professional hockey at the age of 35, the oldest player in years with the greatest number of years of playing and number of years playing with the same team in the entire league, to his credit. He is one of 11 players in the entire history of professional hockey to have scored 200 goals or more. Actually "Dit" will start the season with a record of 218 counters to his credit and he should move up from eighth place in this class to at least sixth, surpassing Charlie Conacher and Bill Cook.

We anticipate no one will ever overtake the 323 goal mark set by Nels Stewart, for with the exception of Harvey Jackson of the Bruins and Clapper, all of the top 11 are either in retirement or deceased. Don't forget in summing all this up that Clapper, playing for many years as a defenceman, has not had the same chance to go for goals as have the rest who are all forwards. Crawford is 28 but has been in the monied ranks for six years, Schewchuk is a year younger than Crawford and none the worse for his army training. Bill Cowley and Herb will team again on one line and if injuries don't intervene they should form one of the most potent scoring combinations in the big league.

Al Truelove, son of Aurora's Bill Truelove and once, the star of Perth Bluewings junior hockey club, is a dispatch rider in Italy and recently on one of his calls met four of his cronies in one group. It was quite a reunion, we bet.

In Italy, too, with the armored corps is Ross Tunbridge, captain of the Aurora junior hockey club for two years and one of the most popular players ever to perform locally. We got that bit from Murray Scruton, former manager of Etobicoke Juniors, at the Maple Leaf dinner. Murray also reports seeing Harold Capra, another former junior, who is in the navy. Cap has touched every principal port in the world the past two years and is the picture of health.

Frankie Hughes, the kid goal-tender of the same year, is in the army too. At 15 young Hughes was a really smart youngster, better even than Stundin, the good young Richmond Hill goalie, which is indeed saying something. Hughes was replaced by the fancier and more experienced Don Hamilton, but Don wasn't any better. Hamilton, who played the wets for Army Shamrocks last winter, is said to be overseas now.

Mason Acton, former Uxbridge baseball player, who is a sergeant in the R.C.A.F., is now in India with Canadian airmen. Acton was one of the better outfielders in the York-Simcoe league in the early 30's.

Harvey Gibney, once one of the fleetest outfielders in the York-Simcoe league with Newmarket Redmen, played some softball the past summer with deHavilland Aces. The Aces finished fourth in the plant league, then won the league play-offs and went on to represent the aircraft plant in the

RAVENSHOE

There were not quite so many out to church last Sunday due to anniversary services at this season of the year.

Rev. Gordon Lapp's message was The Eyes of Jesus.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. King and family were Sunday guests at Mr. Isaac King's, Tottenham.

Sunday will be rally day at the United church. The church service will be held at 2.15 p.m. and will be combined with Sunday-school. This is a special day for the Sunday-school. The scholars will take part in music and reading.

The turnip crop this year is not large, owing to so much dry weather.

Quite a number of auction sales are being held with good crowds and fairly good prices. Many from the community are going hunting.

That old saying, so well known to farm folks... "Plow to the end of the furrow"... so aptly makes our duty plain. And the end of the furrow is beyond the horizon.

Our men on the fighting fronts have weary, trying days ahead of them. We, on the home front, must not waver nor falter. Our duty is clear, we must keep faith with our fighters. On Canadian farms we must maintain our efforts to produce the foods our fighters and our allies need. That work will reward us with increased incomes.

And we must save... to have money to lend to our country to pay the increased costs that this war continues to pile up.

Money invested in Victory Bonds will help to buy the tools of war. They don't last long in action. They must be replaced. It's our job... the home front job... to see to it that our fighting men have everything they need.

Victory Bonds yield a double harvest. They provide our country with money to carry on the war. Later, they will provide money to buy things we will want and need, and which we have done without during the war. Victory Bonds will provide cash to pay for improvements for farm and home... new buildings... new machinery... better stock... new car... furnishings and conveniences for the home.

MAKE SURE OF OUR CHILDREN'S FUTURE INVEST IN VICTORY

Larry Dorland tinkers with his tricycle as seriously as if it were a 12-cylinder limousine. No dreams of the car he is going to drive some day for Larry if he were a German boy. Only hunger and the need to keep alive.

WOULD WE SELL OUR CHILDREN?

NO!

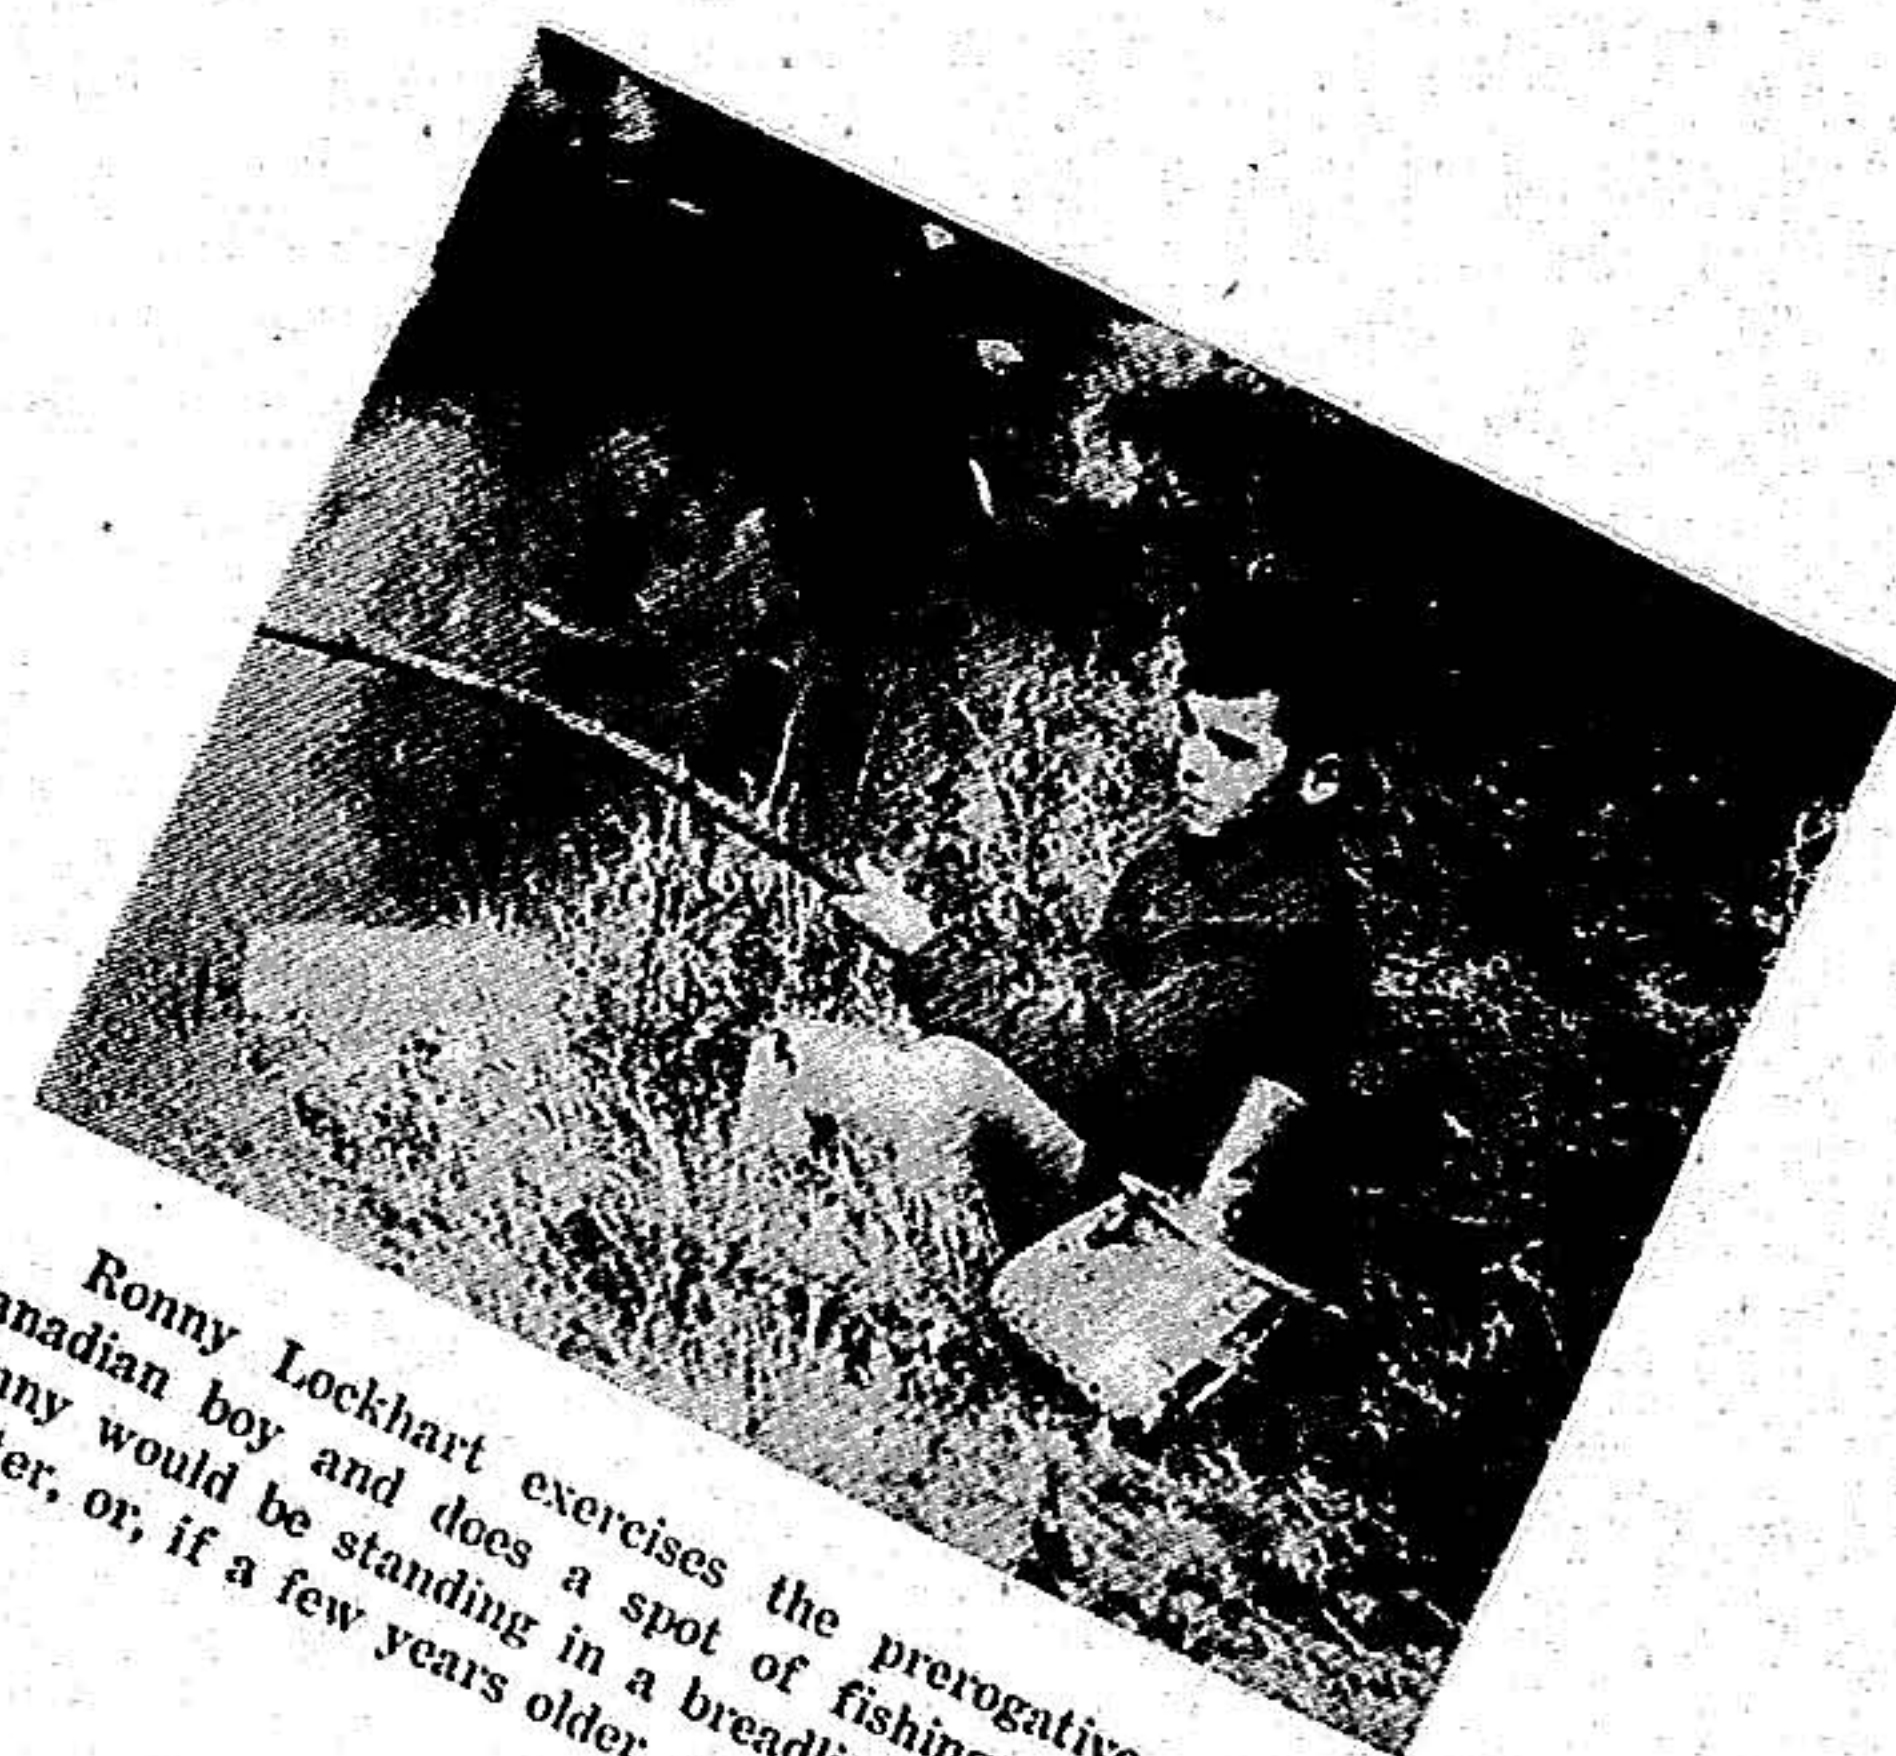

Not For Any Amount Of Money!

And yet this very day we are endangering their future — their lives — if we fail to buy all the Victory Bonds we can afford.

THINK ABOUT IT FOR A MOMENT!

Every time we buy a bond we are saying, "This is our war and we are doing our part until victory is won and peace established."

Yes, we must make sure our children have a future as carefree and secure as it is possible for us to provide . . . yes, this time we must buy one more bond than before.

Ronny Lockhart exercises the prerogative of every Canadian boy and does a spot of fishing. In Germany, Ronny would be standing in a breadline, living in a bomb shelter, or, if a few years older, conscripted for labor.

Douglas Cockburn hands H. L. Trapp, North York campaign organizer, his application for a Victory Bond. Douglas doesn't have to buy the bond. He won't be put in jail if he doesn't. Douglas buys the bond because he knows that it will help the war effort and be a saving for his future.

A RETURNED SOLDIER SAID:

YOU HAVE TO SEE IT TO BELIEVE IT

Great piles of equipment waiting on Europe's beaches. Truck after truck, jammed with supplies, riding the roads of France.

The D-Day fleet crowding the Channel. The air armadas blackening the skies. You have to see it to believe it.

IF YOU COULD ONLY SEE IT

You'd know why your bonds are needed. You'd know why you are asked To buy one more than before.

Fine Programs Offered By Strand To Winners

Last week's contest was not quite as hard as we hoped it would be. Twenty-five contestants got the alphabet straightened out and sent in correct answers. Mrs. Chas. Brice, 19 Queen St. E., M. Boyd, Mrs. Mary Gordon, 17 Queen St. E., Mrs. A. Goring and Mrs. E. Vernon, all of Newmarket, have the greatest number of correct answers to their credit and so will receive this week's five double passes. The non-winning correct answers have been credited.

In Society, starring Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, and Anna Neagle and Richard Greene in Yellow Canary, on Tuesday, Nov. 7, or See Here, Private Hargrove, starring Robt. Walker and Donna Reed, and Her Primitive Man, starring Louise Allbritton and Robert Paige, on Thursday, Nov. 9, are the choice offered for these five winners. They may pick up their passes any evening at the Strand theatre.

The correct answers were: winter, emerald patterns, hemlock, taffeta, bales, pipeless, tweed, helmet and completion.

Red Cross Donors' Clinic Has Friendly Atmosphere

If you are looking for Harvey McCordick on a Thursday, before a blood donor clinic, and can't find him, the chances are that Harvey is working with William Morton in the basement of Trinity United church, getting ready for the clinic. Every fifth Thursday, the pair set up tables and cots in the church basement and prepare things generally for the clinic.

"We'd be lost without their help," say the women of the Red Cross who staff the clinic. For the clinic is a big thing. Last clinic, on Oct. 20, there were 109 successful donors although 160 were enrolled. Thirty-five of those enrolled did not report and the ladies say that if 19 extra soldiers, 19 over the 25 asked for, hadn't volunteered, the clinic would have made a poor showing. Sixteen others who had enrolled were rejected for various reasons by examining physicians.

The first thing that a prospective donor notices when he enters the clinic is the neighborly atmosphere. He is more often than not quite surprised to find that his next door neighbor is waiting his turn two seats farther along. And he receives a royal welcome from the ladies of the clinic.

The first thing a donor does, if it is his first time, is to register with the secretary, Miss Connie Smith. Following registration, he goes to an examining room where his temperature is taken. Then follows a haemoglobin test after which the donors are given a complete physical once-over by attending doctors. Every precaution is taken to see that those who give blood are physically fit and that no possible harm can result.

After the preliminaries are over, the donor takes his turn in the "donor room" where the blood is given. The "donor room" has rows of cots equipped with pillows, blankets and nurses. The donor is given a glass of water, tomato juice or a cup of coffee to compensate for loss of liquid during the donation.

After the donor is comfortably settled on his cot, a doctor injects a local anesthetic in the inside of the arm where the blood is taken. After a moment to let the anesthetic take effect, a larger needle is inserted through which the blood flows to a flask. The sensation of pain is equivalent to that from a prick of a pin.

Then the donor goes to the lunch room where he is given tea or coffee with toast. The restaurant is like a social hour with donors busily comparing experiences and totalling the number of donations they have given.

Giving blood is no hardship at all. Every care is taken by attending physicians. The atmosphere is friendly and everything is done to make the donors comfortable. Every credit should be given to the ladies of the Red Cross and other organizations who help at the clinic.

Miss Helen Anderson, Red Cross technician, said that on an average, the equivalent of three or four donations are required for each wounded soldier. In some cases, the equivalent of 20 donations has been required by seriously wounded soldiers.

A Red Cross bulletin states that reserve supplies of blood plasma in England have been seriously depleted by robot bombing attacks and that the need for plasma is greater than ever before.

Those attending the clinic from camp were: Harry Pullen, Fred Roe, Harry Kells, George Jackson,

SNOWBALL

Snowball W.I. Studies Juvenile Delinquency

The Women's Institute members at their October meeting at Mrs. C. C. Copson's studied the subject of adult education and child delinquency under the guidance of Mrs. Copson's committee on citizenship. The answers to the roll-call, our responsibilities toward child delinquency, showed thoughtful consideration by the members.

Rev. R. F. Hicks, Aurora, spoke on the topic, The Effect of Adult Education on Child Delinquency. He stated that in war, no matter who wins, the children always lose. "A mother's first patriotic duty is to train her children," Mr. Hicks said. Though the school, the church and society share the responsibility of preventing child delinquency, the chief responsibilities lie with the parents. It is easier to build a boy than to lend a man."

He quoted J. Edgar Hoover, "We can prevent more crime in the high chair than in the electric chair."

Mr. Hicks showed a splendid collection of books helpful to parents and adults who have the training of children. These were of great interest to the mothers present.

Mrs. Copson sang My Task. Miss Ella Copson gave current events.

In the business period Mrs. Patrick reported the officers' rally in Aurora. Miss Webb reported the temperance course is being sponsored in Snowball and Armington schools again this year. Mrs. Reddick, in the liaison officer's report of Donald Gordon's radio address, asked the women to adopt the motto he suggested, "If one will do, don't buy two."

Plans were made for a community meeting the evening of Nov. 22 when Miss Gray from the department will present slides on family nutrition. Mrs. C. C. Copson was appointed delegate to the convention in Toronto.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 29 instead of Nov. 22 at Mrs. W. Ash's home. The historical research committee will be in charge.

Son Is Killed In Italy, Was Awarded D.C.M.

WOUNDED IN ITALY

Mrs. Cora Terry received word last Thursday that her son, Sgmn. Russell Terry, had been wounded in action in Italy. Sgmn. Terry was born and educated in Newmarket and enlisted from there in 1940. He has been overseas three years. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. William Mount, Wellington St.

Mrs. Olive Beatrice Smith, Metcalfe St., received word on Sunday that her son, Lieut. Sydney Charles Kenyon, Hamilton, had been killed in action in Italy.

Lieut. Kenyon was in his 36th year. He enlisted in 1939 and went overseas early in 1941. He had been in Italy over a year and was wounded in 1943. He was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal. He received his commission a few months ago, being promoted from the rank of sergeant.

Lieut. Kenyon, who was born and educated in Hamilton, is survived by his widow and two children, one of whom was born only two weeks before he went overseas, his mother, four sisters, three brothers and one half-brother. Two brothers are in the armed forces in Canada. His half-brother, Robert McGill, is with the R.C.N.V.R.

Besides her sons on active service, Mrs. Smith has four grandsons in the armed forces, one of whom, Cpl. Edward McAndrew, returned recently to Canada after losing a leg in the Sicilian campaign.

Mrs. Smith has been in ill-health for the past few months and the news of her son's death came as a severe shock to her.

Picture Of Son's Grave Sent Mr. and Mrs. Heath

FIND NAZI FLAG

Harry Fry (right), a son of Charles Fry, Temperance St., Aurora, sent home a Nazi flag which was picked up in the military stores at Ghent, Belgium. The flag measured eight ft. by four ft. It is thought the flag, which had never been flown, was on hand in the stores for use when a town was captured. A friend of Harry's is pictured with him. Only 21, he has been in the army three years. A brother, Bill, is in the R.C.A.F.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Heath, Metcalfe St., have received two interesting letters in recent weeks. Both letters bring particulars of the death of their only son, Pte. William Heath, on June 7 in France.

Capt. the Rev. R. K. Perdue, a former rector of Trinity Anglican church, Aurora, of which Pte. Heath was a member, paid a visit to the grave and talked with his padre. Pte. Heath was one of 17 killed when a German plane dropped an anti-personnel bomb.

Major Ray McCleary, Toronto, conducted the funeral service on June 10 near the coast between Banville and Riviers and had the pipe-major play a lament. Capt. Perdue promised to return to the grave at his first opportunity and see that it was left "the way you would want it to be." His letter was dated Sept. 7.

Mrs. A. E. Midgley, Ottawa, a complete stranger to the Heath family, wrote this month enclosing a picture of her son's grave. Immediately back of it is the grave of Pte. Heath. Sgt. Midgley was killed the same day and the photo was taken by a friend overseas and forwarded home. Mrs. Midgley communicated with the department of national defence to learn the address of Pte. Heath's next-of-kin.

Hold Rifle Practice At Long Branch Range

Members of C Coy., 2nd battalion, Queen's York Rangers (reserve), journeyed by bus on Sunday to Long Branch rifle range for practice at the 200 and 500 yard range. There was an excellent turnout including Lieuts. J. L. R. Bell, Delroy Babcock, Don Wade and Arnold Miller. The scores registered were gratifying. L.-Cpl. Ben Harrison posted an exceptionally fine score.

A hot meal was served at noon and although the day was cool, enthusiasm ran high. The scheme was under the direction of Capt. Johnny Pote, the regimental training officer.

Ten members of the Aurora high school cadet corps and instructor Chester Greenwood of the high school staff accompanied C Coy., Queen's York Rangers, to Long Branch on Sunday for the rifle trials. The corps is affiliated with the county battalion.

COUPLE IS HONORED

Friends from St. Andrew's Presbyterian church honored Mr. and Mrs. H. Irwin Watts at a Halloween party at Roy Middlebrook's on Monday evening. The newlyweds were presented with a handsome table. Games and refreshments were enjoyed.

Two weeks ago the Aurora bowling club, of which Mr. Watts is the new president, presented the couple with a lamp. Mrs. Watts before her marriage was Miss Jean Marguerite Harper of Toronto.

GAME IS TIED

Aurora high school and Bradford high school soccer teams played a scoreless draw at Aurora last week. The game was particularly hard fought. Delroy Babcock was referee.

starter, but the third position, temporarily at least, is doubtful.
Pete Babando, a Timmins youngster, could start but because of his age prefers to go back and play junior with either Galt, Oshawa or Brantford. Babando is a big youngster and is very fast.

Buzz Boll and Busher Jackson, both tried veterans, are due to report but will not be in shape for some weeks. The Jackson angle appears to be a mystery. Jackson has been playing since 1929-30 and has a 211 goal total over the years. Last year he had a 32 point scoring total. Boll has been up and down from the minors to the majors since 1932-33, with a 25 point scoring total last season.
Harvey and Frank know all the answers and are great fighters but past their prime.

Losses from last year to the team are: Arthur and Ben Guidolin, a sensational young star who received an army call while with the team at Quebec, Clarence Schmidt, another rookie star, and Bruce Gallagher, still another youngster.
Guidolin, of course, is the big loss, getting 42 scoring points last winter while a comparative novice.
The team has been hit no harder than any other in the league except Chicago.

Analyzing the team's chances, they look strong defensively but up front will have to depend on new recruits coming through and, of course, on veteran players standing up under the grind. They will have no worries about Cain or Cowley on that score. Here are Herb's own words, which are perhaps a bit modest as the Newmarket boy is not one to blow his own horn or his team's: "The team is just fair and how they will go in the N.H.L.
I do not know. If Bennett goes well and the kids improve we might have something. I think this team is better than last year's but all the other clubs have improved too and they look to have improved more than we have."

It is interesting at this time to see the forecast made by Frank Boucher, coach of the New York Rangers, who were cellar dwellers last winter. Boucher rates the teams as follows: 1, Les Canadiens; 2, Detroit; 3, Toronto; 4, New York; 5, Boston; 6, Chicago. In that summary Rangers replace Chicago, the top three teams and Boston are the same. Certainly we can expect the Rangers to do better than the 17 points they made over the season last winter.

By the time you read this the league will have opened, Boston making their debut on Saturday against Canadian. The first two or three games can be taken with a grain of salt more or less and these two summaries we have given you are something you can tuck away and look back upon next spring. Comparison at that time should be most interesting.

A correction that we feel should be made is the matter of Herb Cain's age. Herb was born in Newmarket on Dec. 24, 1912, and so starts the season at 31. The official handbooks all issued some years back merely list the year and not knowing the exact month we have always regarded Herb as a year older than he really is. Through being born in December he missed a year's junior hockey, although now the junior age limit has been moved back to Nov. 1 from Jan. 1 as it once was.

It is really surprising just how many fellows have a birthday in either November or December and the junior managements were happy to have this changed. Another reason, too, is the fact that in these days December or late November in some instances is the start of junior hockey, which means that under the old rule a player not eligible for the finals since his birthday fell in December could play a number of games, causing protests and considerable inconvenience to all.

Joffre Deslats, formerly of Canadians, who played junior hockey for Stratford juniors the year they played against Newmarket juniors in the O.H.A. finals in 1933, is now stationed with the army in Toronto and will be on the M.D. 2 team in the services league this winter.

Broad jumping was something we had in our column last week and after reading it we found we had omitted one of the district's best all-round athletes, P.O. Bill Jelley of Newmarket, now overseas with the R.C.A.F. We recall that only a few years ago Bill jumped as far as 19' 8" in the running broad to top all recorded local secondary school distances and in the running hop, step and jump was measured at 42' 11". He was just as good at sprints too. Time really marches on when you look back at the 1940 Newmarket junior team and find Pete Dillman, Gardner, Myles Mac-Innes, Howard Hamilton, Jack Luck, reported missing, Jelley and Merv. Broughton all on active service, with Gordy Bone honorably discharged from the army. Mac-Innes, Luck, Hamilton and Jelley, the kids of the team who played together as one line most of the time, all in the air force. MacInnes was another swell track and field star.

Whatever became of Bud Bulmer or "Bohmer" as he was sometimes called? The big fellow, who was a dandy softball outfielder and a pretty fair sort of hockeyist, has dropped from our ken since he played with that same junior team, although we did hear he was in the army. We would appreciate anyone knowing, dropping us a line so our records will be straight.
That goes for a good many other fellows too who have dropped out of sight over the years.

Flash! Since we wrote the above Les Canadiens have come to the rescue of the Hawks by disgorging from their line-up two smart hockeyists. Will. Flehla, ex-New York American, will bolster the defence and Ludo Check, a French-Canadian boy who has been starting with Quebec Aces for some years and played one game with Detroit last year. Check is a forward and his name is very appropriate. Harvey Jackson says, we sighed with his tongue in his cheek, he has retired from the Bruins.

The Era and Express office is open Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock during the winter months.

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—lie awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills. For half a century the favorite remedy.

DAVIS EMPLOYEES

Here Are Some Important FACTS In Which YOU Are Interested

- (1). Indications are that the war will be over in 1945.
- (2). Are you prepared for post-war conditions—
Will there be lay-offs in the Davis plant?
Will there be wage cuts in the Davis plant?
Is your seniority protected?
Will the discharged men get their jobs back as they should?
- (3). These and many other problems face all Canadian tannery workers.

WHAT MUST BE DONE TO AVOID A RETURN TO THE LOW WAGES AND POOR WORKING CONDITIONS OF THE PRE- WAR DAYS?

The answer is that all tannery workers in Canada must get together and decide what are fair standards of work and what is to be considered an adequate wage. Canadian workers in the tanning industry must receive a fair share of the profits which are made by the firms engaged in this industry.

The job will not be done by individual shop unions which cannot possibly know what the conditions and rates are in other tanneries, and obviously are not in a position to bargain effectively with the owners of the tanning industry who are themselves highly organized.

The job cannot be done in a hit or miss fashion. It must be carefully planned on a co-operative basis so as to raise the standards of the entire industry, and not place any company in an unfair competitive position. Forward looking employers realize that happy, contented workers make a better product and can make many valuable contributions to the efficiency of the plant; that the most effective method of achieving this is to recognize the desire of the employees to join an organization which they themselves run, without the bosses' paternal interest.

SUCH AN ORGANIZATION is the National Union of Shoe and Leather Workers, an all-Canadian union affiliated with the Canadian Congress of Labor, which already represents the largest group of tannery workers in Canada.

The Union is organizing the shoe and leather industry as a group because of the obvious connection between the tanning of leather and the manufacture of shoes.

The National Union of Shoe and Leather Workers has a Tannery Council to consider the problems special to the tannery worker. The Tannery Council is composed of delegates from the following tanneries organized by the National Union of Shoe and Leather Workers:

The Lang Tanning Company Limited, Kitchener Beardmore and Co., Aetion
C. S. Hyman Company Limited, London
Hyman Leathers Limited, London Collis Leather Co., Aurora
The Brethaupt Leather Co. Limited, Penotang

It is evident that the employees of the Davis Leather Company should be meeting with the employees of these other plants in order to more effectively better their own position by building a strong tannery workers' organization. The voice of the Davis Leather Company employees must be heard in the Tannery Council, and it is for that reason that the National Union of Shoe and Leather Workers is giving their attention to the organization of the employees of the Davis Leather Company at the present time.

FACTS

CONCERNING THE CANADIAN TANNING INDUSTRY

In 1941—4,640 workers employed; value of products—$33,943,394; profits—over 13 per cent; average weekly wage—men, $24.68, women, $16.38.

In 1942—Production up over $8,000,000 above 1941; profits at an all time peak.

In 1943—Indications were that this record figure would again be exceeded.

Ontario produces almost 80 percent of all leather in Canada.

OLIVER HODGES,
Representative

THE DOMINION OF CANADA HAS ENACTED LAWS THAT MAKE IT POSSIBLE TO JOIN THE NATIONAL UNION OF SHOE AND LEATHER WORKERS WITHOUT FEAR OF DISCRIMINATION BY THE MANAGEMENT. WHEN YOU HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO HAVE A BONA FIDE UNION, WHY SHOULD YOU ACCEPT LESS?

NATURALLY YOUR EMPLOYER WOULD RATHER HAVE YOU IN A COMPANY UNION, SUCH AS YOU HAVE NOW, BECAUSE YOU ARE ISOLATED AND CANNOT GET OUTSIDE ASSISTANCE ON DIFFICULT PROBLEMS. WHEN THERE ARE GRIEVANCES, THE COMPANY UNION CAN ONLY GO SO FAR. THE NATIONAL UNION OF SHOE AND LEATHER WORKERS BRINGS YOU REPRESENTATIVES WITH EXPERIENCE IN SETTLING GRIEVANCES AND A KNOWLEDGE OF LABOR LAW AND NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE REGULATIONS. THESE MEN ARE EMPLOYED BY YOU, AS YOU WOULD EMPLOY A LAWYER IF YOU HAD A LEGAL PROBLEM. THIS IS PART OF YOUR SERVICE AS A MEMBER OF THE NATIONAL UNION OF SHOE AND LEATHER WORKERS. LET US FACE THE FACTS—YOU ARE ENTITLED TO JOIN THIS UNION AND THERE ARE ONLY A FEW REASONS WHY ANYONE WOULD HESITATE. THESE REASONS LIKELY ARE ONE OR MORE OF THE FOLLOWING:

- Afraid of the Boss
- Won't invest a dollar a month in Union dues
- A member of the Jehovah Witnesses

The first two you can strike out. The laws says (and it can be enforced!) (1) that there shall be no discrimination, (2) the dues are always paid several times over by even the most minor increase; (3) if your religion forbids you to take collective action to secure individual freedom and individual rights, then you will not be pressed to join the Union.

THE COMPANY UNION TERM IS UP FEBRUARY 4TH, 1945. YOU HAVE THREE MONTHS TO ORGANIZE.

According to the Ontario Labor Relations Regulations, anytime within two months prior to February 4th we can apply for certification if a majority of the Davis Leather Company employees join the National Union of Shoe and Leather Workers. IT IS UP TO YOU TO DECIDE WHETHER YOU WILL GO INTO THE POST-WAR PERIOD WITH A COMPANY UNION OR A UNION THAT CAN PROTECT YOUR INTERESTS PROPERLY. UNLESS YOU DECIDE BEFORE THE COMPANY UNION TERM IS UP YOU WILL BE SADDLED WITH THE SAME THING FOR ANOTHER YEAR. IT IS UP TO YOU.

A MEETING WILL BE ANNOUNCED SOON
